The Mississippi Military Department is part of the Mississippi executive branch and is a State agency. The Adjutant General of Mississippi (TAG) serves as the executive director and is only subordinate to the Commander-in-Chief, the Governor of Mississippi, in matters relating to the department and the state militia forces. The Adjutant General is a political appointee and serves at the will and pleasure of the Governor. The Adjutant General’s term of office expires with the term of the Governor.

The Adjutant General of Mississippi, via the Mississippi Military Department, is expressly authorized to “issue such orders, rules and regulations as may be necessary in order that the organization, training, and discipline of the components of the militia of this state will at all times conform to the applicable requirements of the United States government relating thereto. Orders, rules, and regulations issued hereunder shall have full force and effect as part of the military code of this state.”

Mississippi’s militia forces formally break down into three broad classes: The Mississippi National Guard (MSNG), the Mississippi State Guard (MSG), and the unorganized militia. The Mississippi National Guard and the Mississippi State Guard are considered organized militia. The Mississippi National Guard is the most recognizable military force within our State borders.

The missions of the Mississippi Army National Guard and the Mississippi Air National Guard are dual in nature. The state mission is: to provide protection of life and property, and uphold the preservation of peace, order, and public safety for the citizens of Mississippi, under the leadership and control of the Governor. The federal mission is: to serve for the common defense, under Presidential authority, in times of national emergency or war.

The Mississippi State Guard is most closely aligned with the concept of state militia. The members are volunteers, self-equipped (armed only under special circumstances, as defined in law), can only operate within the borders of the State, and are unpaid unless activated to assist or backfill the Mississippi National Guard.

The Guard has a history of service in homeland defense. The Mississippi Emergency Service Medal has been given in more than 49 different operations, including: 14 hurricanes, seven floods, five tornados, and numerous civil disturbances ranging from the textile strike in 1934 to civil strife in the 1960s.

In 1927, Mississippi Guardsmen patrolled 70 miles along the flooded Mississippi River Delta, saving, evacuating, and providing campsites for more than 30,000 refugees.

From September 30 to October 9, 1962, President John F. Kennedy federalized the entire Mississippi National Guard in connection with the integration of the University of Mississippi.

In October 1962, a large portion of the Mississippi Guard responded to a major chlorine spill at Natchez.

The state and federal missions collided for the first time during Operation Iraqi Freedom and Hurricane Katrina. With more than 3,000 Soldiers and Airmen overseas, the Mississippi National Guard led a noteworthy response in 2005 to the worst natural disaster to hit the United States.

The Mississippi National Guard’s 47th Civil Support Team was certified in October 2006. This full-time unit’s only mission is to respond to weapons of mass destruction threats within the state. They are fully equipped, fully funded, and serve under the control of the Governor.

Emergency service at home is not an easy mission. It evokes emotional involvement, requires separation from loved ones, and demands the same professionalism and courage required by the federal mission.

The Mississippi National Guard has served in the Creek War, War of 1812, Mexican War, Civil War, World Wars One and Two, Korea, Operation Desert Storm, Haiti, Bosnia-Kosovo, Somalia, Operation Noble Eagle, Operation Enduring Freedom, Operation Iraqi Freedom, and Operation New Dawn.

The Mississippi Dragoons, under Major Thomas Hinds, demonstrated the fighting spirit and resolve of the Mississippi Militia during the War of 1812.

The 1st Mississippi Regiment of Infantry, Mississippi Rifles, turned the tide at the Battle of Buena Vista during the Mexican War. Colonel Jefferson Davis’s command “STAND FAST MISSISSIPPIANS” remains the motto of the Mississippi Army National Guard’s oldest unit, and the Army’s sixth oldest active regiment, the 1st Battalion, 155th Infantry.

The fourth highest loss suffered by a southern regiment in a single battle at the Battle of Shiloh during the Civil War. The 6th Mississippi Infantry lost 300 of 425 men in less than 30 minutes.

In July 1917, the entire Mississippi National Guard was called into service for World War I. Two regiments of infantry, one regiment of field artillery, nine troops of cavalry, and one company of engineers were called. The first African-American registrants were also drafted for training.

Mississippi’s oldest Air National Guard unit, the 186th Air Refueling Wing in Meridian, was activated at Key Field on September 27, 1939, as the 153rd Observation Squadron. Less than 13 months later, it was ordered into active service.

The Guard was activated again for war on November 25, 1940, and served honorably on battlefields throughout Europe and the Pacific. The 31st Infantry (Dixie) Division was again called on to serve in the Korean Conflict. Almost 95 percent of the Mississippi National Guard units were mobilized for the Korean Conflict.

In July 1953, the Mississippi Air National Guard’s 172nd Airlift Wing was formed at Hawkins Field in Jackson. It is recognized as the first Air National Guard unit in the nation to use night photo reconnaissance, the first ANG unit to have an aeromedical evacuation mission, and the first Mississippi National Guard unit to enlist females.

During Operation Desert Shield/Desert Storm, Mississippi was the largest National Guard contributor to the war effort. Over 6,500 Mississippi National Guard members, representing 70 units and 57 communities, served on active duty during the Persian Gulf Crisis, with more than 1,300 deployed to Saudi Arabia.

In support of Operations Noble Eagle, Enduring Freedom (Afghanistan), Iraqi Freedom, and New Dawn, the Mississippi National Guard has mobilized over 10,000 service members, with every deployable unit participating.

From protecting the skies over Washington D.C. with the 1st Battalion, 204th Air Defense Artillery; to patrolling the streets and conducting historic elections with the 155th Armored Brigade Combat Team in Iraq; to hunting the Taliban in Afghanistan with the 2nd Battalion, 20th Special Forces Group; to conducting theater-level logistics for all of Southwest Asia with the 184th Sustainment Command; and to conducting combat aeromedical evacuation missions with the 172nd Airlift Wing, the Mississippi National Guard continues her faithful service to the citizens of Mississippi and the United States of America.

MISSISSIPPI STATE GUARD

The mission of the Mississippi State Guard is “to establish and maintain an all-volunteer formal military organization as the State’s reserve to the Mississippi National Guard (MSNG).” The State Guard is to assist the Mississippi National Guard with in-state missions, as directed by the Governor and the Adjutant General of Mississippi. The State Guard is tasked with assuming the mission of the Mississippi Army National Guard should they be fully mobilized outside the State. The State Guard is similarly tasked with securing armories, providing assistance to Guard families, and assuming other duties until the full mobilization ceases. State Guard personnel may, at the request of the Adjutant General of Mississippi, be trained in the protection of life and property of the citizens of Mississippi due to natural or man-made disasters.

The U.S. Constitution, U.S. Code, Title 32, Section 109, authorized the states to organize a State Defense Force (SDF) as provided by its laws. The Mississippi Code of 1972, Chapter 5, sections 33-5-1 through 33-5-53 authorizes the establishment of the Mississippi State Guard.
