

If Your
Objective is:

Income
Growth

This Fund Provides:

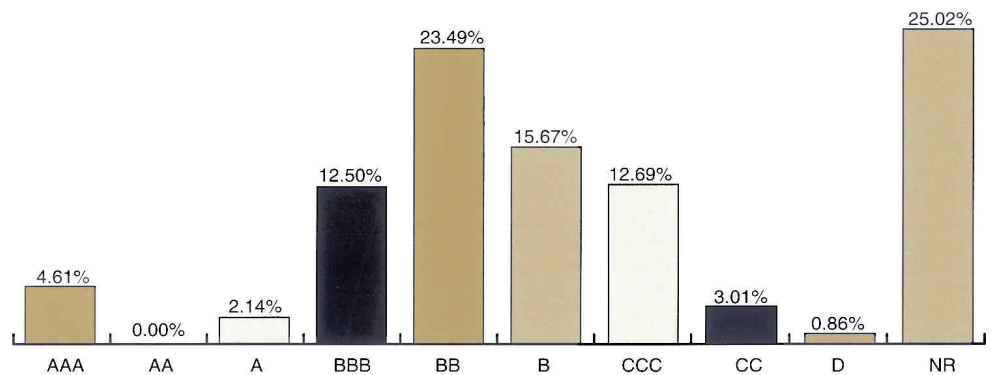

- The potential for high current income from a broad range of asset classes
- The opportunity for capital appreciation
- Diversification across multiple fixed income asset classes
- Potential for lower NAV volatility than typical high-yield funds

Although diversification offers the benefit of spreading risk among asset classes, it should not be interpreted as a guarantee against investment loss or a promise of specific investment return. Securities and insurance products offered through Morgan Keegan are not FDIC insured, may lose value, and are not bank guaranteed.

1 Opportunity for High Current Income

The Select High Income Fund invests with a strong “value” orientation. We select below-investment-grade debt and convertible issues which offer a higher current yield than other comparably rated issues. The relatively conservative credit posture of the Fund reflects our goal of higher yields without excessive credit risk.

Credit Quality Distribution

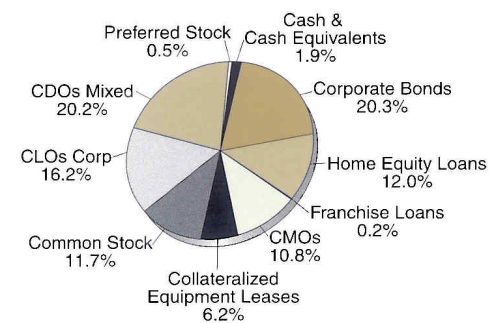

Note: Each rating category listed above includes all bonds within the broad rating category (i.e. BBB includes all bonds rated BBB+, BBB, and BBB-).

2 Broad Diversification

A unique advantage of the Select High Income Fund is its diversification across a wide variety of high-income debt and equity-linked securities. Not limited to high-yield corporate bonds, we invest in many types of mortgage-backed and asset-backed securities, as well as various types of convertible securities and income-producing stocks.

3 Potential for Capital Appreciation

The Select High Income Portfolio is structured to provide some long-term growth in principal value. This is accomplished by:

- buying deeply discounted debt securities and...
- actively maintaining some equity exposure. We seek to “build in” the opportunity for a growth in principal value by selecting debt securities that structurally and fundamentally possess the potential to appreciate in value.

The investment return and principal value will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than the original cost. Total performance returns assume an investment at the beginning of the period, reinvestment of all income and capital gains distributions for the period, and sale of all shares at the end of the period. The funds offer other classes of shares whose performance will vary due to difference in charges and expenses. Total returns for periods of less than one year are cumulative. Performance returns shown here do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on fund distributions or the redemption of fund shares.

High-yield debt can enhance the risk/return profile of a typical investor's portfolio. Investors should note, however, that high-yield securities carry greater risk to principal than investment-grade bonds and the purchase of shares of a mutual fund that invests in high-yield securities may result in a loss in original principal. Should you choose to invest in high income securities, here are some of the ways the Select High Income Fund can enhance your investment portfolio.

1 Generates Higher Levels of Scheduled Income than Investment-Grade Bonds

2 Strong Long-Term Earnings Potential

The chart below represents a hypothetical investment of $10,000 in the A share class of Regions Morgan Keegan Select High Income Fund at inception (3/22/99), net of expenses including the maximum load of 2.5%, with all dividends and capital gains reinvested.

Bond funds will tend to experience smaller fluctuations in value than stock funds. However, investors in any bond fund should anticipate fluctuations in price, especially for longer-term issues and in environments of rising interest rates. Bond prices and the value of bond funds decline as interest rates rise. Longer-term funds (e.g., those that invest in high-yield debt securities) are more vulnerable to interest rate risk.
