Governor TATE REEVES

As the 65th Governor of Mississippi, Tate Reeves is a conservative leader who has focused on the principles of guarding the taxpayers' dollars, improving educational opportunity, and growing new careers so that the state's best and brightest can stay and raise their families at home.

Tate is a strong supporter of public safety and Mississippians' Second Amendment Rights. He is proud to have the support of Mississippi's pro-life community as he fights for the rights of the unborn.

In 2003, Tate was elected as the first Republican and youngest treasurer in the state's history. His business training in the banking sector made him the state's foremost advocate for balancing the state budget while minimizing state debt.

He was elected in 2011 and re-elected four years later as lieutenant governor, managing the state Senate. His conservative management helped fill the state's "rainy day fund" and reduce the overall debt burden. He fought for transparency in how agencies spend tax dollars and stronger reporting requirements on taxpayer-funded incentive programs.

His commitment to long-term growth that creates better careers led Tate to propose the largest tax cut in state history through the Taxpayer Pay Raise Act, which lowered the personal income tax and allowed more Mississippi employers to invest in jobs and better compete in the global marketplace.

Tate's upbringing in Florence's public schools made him driven to reform the education system to increase opportunity for all Mississippians. He worked to increase investment in the classroom and enacted reforms to save money, strengthen achievement and clearly communicate school performance.

Tate is past chairman of the Republican Lieutenant Governors Association. He served as a member of the inaugural Hunt-Kean Leadership Fellows program focused on education issues. He also has been named a Legislator of the Year by the Mississippi Municipal League.

Tate is a Rankin County native and a graduate of Florence High School. He is an honors graduate of Millsaps College and holds a bachelor's degree in economics. He holds the Chartered Financial Analyst designation.

Tate and his wife Elee Williams Reeves, a Tylertown native, are the proud parents of three daughters, Tyler, Emma and Madeline. The Reeves family attends Galloway Memorial United Methodist Church.

Duties: The Governor is the Chief Executive Officer of the state, charged with executive direction and supervision of the general administration of the State. In this capacity, he or she sees that the laws are faithfully executed, supervises the official conduct of executive officers, acts as commander-in-chief of the state militia, and appoints officials as prescribed by law.

The Governor is responsible for the presentation of a balanced budget to the Legislature and approval or veto of legislation passed by the Legislature. He or she may call extraordinary sessions of the Legislature when he or she deems it necessary, and may issue pardons, executive orders, and extraditions of fugitives from other states.

The office provides staff assistance and liaison in all areas of state government administration and researches agency programs and policies.

A number of officers are appointed by the Governor. Among these are the Adjutant General, the Commissioner of Public Safety, and the chief executive officers of the departments of Banking and Consumer Finance, Mississippi Development Authority, Environmental Quality, and the State Tax Commission. The Governor also appoints members to numerous executive and administrative boards and commissions who, in turn, appoint executive officers to the departments they lead. Some of these departments are Finance and Administration, Health, Corrections, Education, and the State Personnel Board. The Governor serves a term of four years and may be re-elected for an additional term. Miss. Const. 1890, Article 5, §§ 116-125. Miss. Code Ann. § 7-1-1 et seq. (1972).

Lieutenant Governor DELBERT HOSEMANN

Elected in November 2019 with more than 60 percent of the vote, the Honorable Delbert Hosemann is serving as Mississippi's 33rd Lieutenant Governor. During his campaign, he advocated for increasing transparency in State government, supporting small businesses, shoring up Mississippi's roads and bridges, providing better access to healthcare, ensuring every child has access to a high quality public education, and building a skilled workforce for the future.

In his first legislative session presiding over the 52-member Mississippi Senate, he has remained committed to making Mississippi an even better place for our children and grandchildren. In addition to tackling community mental healthcare and prison reform, Hosemann has overseen Senate action to increase teacher pay, streamline the State's workforce development efforts, and support law enforcement.

First elected to public office in 2007, Hosemann previously served three terms as Secretary of State. A true fiscal conservative, he is renowned for maximizing the agency's productivity and emphasizing quick, accurate customer service on a smaller budget than the previous administration.

Dedicated to ensuring the integrity of every Mississippian's vote, Hosemann was lauded for his commitment to fair and honest elections in Mississippi. During his tenure as Chief Elections Officer, the Secretary of State's Office dispatched observers in the State to the polls and increased training opportunities for local election officials. Hosemann also twice succeeded in the U.S. Supreme Court in the fight to redistrict the State Legislature.

Since the 2014 Primary Election, every Mississippian who votes at the polls is required to present an acceptable form of photo identification before casting a regular ballot. To date, Mississippi is one of the only states to implement Voter ID without federal intervention or litigation, saving millions in taxpayer dollars. Through an award-winning voter education campaign, Hosemann reached Mississippians statewide to provide information about the new requirement.

A military veteran of the U.S. Army Reserve, Hosemann's commitment to military voting has been recognized by the U.S. Department of Defense. In 2015, he was invited among a delegation of Secretaries of State to visit remote areas of Iraq, Afghanistan, and Kuwait to promote increasing voter turnout among military men and women. Mississippi leads the Nation in allowing online voting for servicemembers.

As a business lawyer and small business owner, Hosemann has always emphasized the importance of economic development in our State. As part of an overall Business Reform Plan, Hosemann facilitated policy groups to revamp how Mississippi attracts, retains, and grows business and industry. Through various proposals to the Legislature, Mississippi now has the leading securities, charities, and limited liability company laws in the Nation. Hosemann's landmark recommendation on trademark laws received global recognition by the International Trademark Association. Hosemann also drafted the nation's premier Athlete Agent Act which governs sports agents in Mississippi.

In October 2015, the Secretary of State's Office launched Y'all Business, a website which set the national standard for aggregate demographic, economic, and consumer information. The agency was awarded the Esri 2016 SAG award, among other state, national, and international accolades. In January 2016, the agency initiated Mississippi Business One Stop Shop (BOSS), which assists entrepreneurs in starting and registering their business in Mississippi.

As Secretary of State, Hosemann also served as State Land Commissioner. Shortly after taking office in 2007, he fulfilled a major campaign promise to make all 16th Section leases (more than 600,000 acres) available for inspection on the agency's website. Increased transparency has allowed school boards to make better financial decisions in determining lease amounts, and has given Mississippians greater access to public hunting and other lands. A major source of funding for public schools in Mississippi, 16th Section land revenue topped $1 billion during Hosemann's tenure.

Funds generated from tidelands leases and assessments have also reached record amounts under Hosemann's leadership. In 2012, a $1 million donation secured by Hosemann resulted in the acquisition and preservation of tidelands. In 2013, Hosemann obtained funding from a coalition of state and federal sources to purchase more than 200 acres of Cat Island, a protective barrier island located off the Mississippi Gulf Coast. After years of negotiation, Hosemann finalized the acquisition of an additional 492 acres of Cat Island in 2016.

Hosemann's persistence in protecting investors led to $200 million nationwide settlement agreement in a securities lawsuit initiated by the State of Mississippi. Because of his involvement in complex securities issues, the National Association of Secretaries of State tapped Hosemann to co-chair the organization's Securities Committee.

Throughout his public service career, Hosemann has worked tirelessly to provide children with autism and other developmental disorders with better access to health insurance and services. Autism Speaks, the nation's leading autism science and advocacy organization, awarded Hosemann the Executive of the Year award in 2018.

Previously, Hosemann served as chairman of the Board of Mississippi Blood Services, treasurer of the Jackson Medical Mall Association, and member of the Board of Directors for the Jackson State University Development Foundation. He is a member of the North Jackson Rotary Club and is a Paul Harris Fellow. His accomplishments include receiving the George L. Phillips Community Service Award from the U.S. Department of Justice for his efforts in the Hurricane Katrina First Responder Assistance Project. He was awarded the J. Tate Thigpen Award for exemplary leadership, support, and commitment to the American Red Cross. Hosemann has also been awarded the Kirk Fordice Freedom Award by the National Rifle Association for his support of the Second Amendment, and served as chairman of the Republican Secretaries of State Committee.

In his spare time, Hosemann is an avid hunter and jogger. He is a lifetime member of the National Rifle Association, and belongs to the Delta Wildlife Foundation and Ducks Unlimited. He has competed in both the New York Marathon and the Boston Marathon, represented Mississippi in the Senior Olympics, and participated in the Mississippi Blues Marathon and Half-Marathon.

A Warren County native, Hosemann's professional background is in Business and Taxation Law. He earned his bachelor's degree in business from the University of Notre Dame, his Juris Doctor from the University of Mississippi School of Law, and his Master of Laws in Taxation from New York University. He is a former partner of Phelps Dunbar, LLP, and was selected to the Best Lawyers in America for 18 consecutive years.

Hosemann has been married to his wife Lynn for 49 years. They are extremely proud of their three children: Kristen, Chad, and Mark; and grandchildren Grace, Nora Lynn, Carson, Charlie, Manse, Charlotte, and Howard Delbert.

Duties: In addition to the Governor, the Mississippi Constitution makes provision for a Lieutenant Governor who acts as president of the state Senate. The Lieutenant Governor presides over the Senate, rules on points of order, appoints standing committees of the Senate, appoints all select and conference committees as ordered by the Senate, and refers all bills. He or she serves as a member of the Senate Rules and Joint Legislative Budget Committees, votes only in cases of ties, speaks from the floor while the Senate is in Committee of the Whole, and signs all finally approved bills and resolutions.

The Lieutenant Governor serves a term of four years and may be re-elected for an additional term. Miss. Const. 1890, Article 5, §§ 128-132, and 136. Miss. Code Ann. §§ 5-1-13, 5-1-43, and 5-1-47 (1972).

Secretary of State MICHAEL WATSON

Secretary of State Michael David Watson, Jr., was born and raised in Mississippi. He is a husband to his loving wife Lauren, father of three beautiful young daughters, the son of a shipyard worker and bank teller. After his work as a pipe fitter, Michael's father entered the ministry and continues to serve as pastor at Liberty Church in Gautier. His mother passed away shortly before Michael became Mississippi's thirty-sixth Secretary of State.

Prior to taking office as Secretary of State in January 2020, Michael served three terms in the State Senate where he represented District 51 in Jackson County. During his time in the Mississippi Legislature, he authored the Fetal Protection Act, which strengthened the penalties for injuring an unborn child. He also wrote Mississippi's first comprehensive law to tackle illegal immigration, as well as legislation to allow alternate-track diplomas—one of the first efforts to return a focus to career and technical training for high school students. More of Michael's proposals came to fruition in the State Senate, including the Catastrophe Savings Accounts which allows for pretax savings accounts to be used on deductibles or other catastrophe-related expenses, and the Equal Opportunity for Students with Special Needs Act that provides scholarships for parents with a special needs child, allowing them the ability to choose which education option best fits their child. In addition, Governor Phil Bryant asked Michael to introduce the legislation adding "In God We Trust" to our state seal. During his time in the State Senate, Michael became known as a conservative fighter for his work to preserve Mississippians' rights and religious liberties, and to limit government overreach and spending. Michael brings these same conservative principles to the Secretary of State's office.

A graduate of Pascagoula High School and the University of Mississippi, where he earned a Bachelor of Business Administration degree and a law degree, Michael began his work in public service in the summer of 1999, serving as an intern for then U.S. Senate Majority Leader

Trent Lott. That experience strengthened his desire to one day enter public service in order to improve the quality of life for all Mississippians.

As Secretary of State, Michael is focused on protecting the integrity of our elections by continuing strong enforcement of Mississippi's Voter ID law. Michael is also dedicated to bringing about a more efficient and effective state government by working to reduce regulations and red tape so small businesses can grow and flourish in a free market economy. As a native of the Mississippi Gulf Coast, Michael understands the importance of properly managing Tidelands and other public lands. He is committed to keeping the decisions in the hands of local officials as much as allowed by law while monitoring these decisions to ensure Mississippians receive fair value.

During his campaign for Secretary of State in 2019, Michael announced a landmark proposal to fix Mississippi's process for issuing and renewing driver's licenses. To address this growing problem, Michael developed the innovative "SIP" plan, which stands for "Service, Information and Professionalism," that would move the driver's services division (commonly referred to as the DMV) from the Mississippi Department of Public Safety to be under the direction and management of the Secretary of State's office. Michael is continuing his work to make the SIP plan a reality by supporting legislation transferring the DMV to the Secretary of State's office so he can implement technology and customer service improvements to speed up the process for people obtaining or renewing a driver's license, and to help resolve delays in the commercial driver's license system.

During his time in the private sector, Michael opened his own firm where he focused on business law, construction law and probate law. He is a member of the National Rifle Association (NRA), the American Council of Young Political Leaders, the Mississippi Bar Association, the Ole Miss Alumni Association and the Ole Miss Hall of Fame. He and his family spend time volunteering with the American Heart Association, American Cancer Society and the Dream Program. As a dedicated family man, Michael and his wife, Lauren, have three daughters—Gracie Pierce, Annie and Cora Elizabeth. The Watsons are members of First Presbyterian Church in Pascagoula and enjoy visiting church families all over Mississippi.

Duties: The Secretary of State directs a service and information agency with major statutory functions: administration of the Mississippi Corporation Law, the Uniform Commercial Code, the Uniform Securities Law, and the Elections Code; administration and supervision of the 16th Section School Trust Lands, the Tidelands Trust, lieu lands, and tax-forfeited property; and issuance of documents and publications of the state, including those for the executive and legislative branches; investigation of charity and securities fraud; enforcement of campaign finance and lobbyist reporting requirements. Issuing notary commissions, registering correspondence schools, administering the state's trademark and service mark laws, service of process, and administering the Administrative Procedures Act are other responsibilities. The Constitution also designates the Secretary of State as the "keeper of the Capitol."

The Secretary of State is elected to a four-year term and may be re-elected. Miss. Const. 1890, Article 5 §§ 133 and 136. Miss. Code Ann. § 7-3-1 et seq. (1972).

State Treasurer DAVID McRAE

David McRae is a fourth-generation Mississippian. His great-grandfather, Sam McRae, grew up on a farm in Rankin County and opened his first S.P. McRae department store in Jackson at the turn of the century. Dedicated to customer service, the store remained one of the premier department store chains in the southeast for more than 100 years.

That same customer-service mindset is at the center of what McRae is working to accomplish as State Treasurer.

His primary responsibility is to manage the cash flow that keeps state agencies operating on a daily basis, but it also comes with a seat on 17 different boards and commissions.

Additionally, McRae has prioritized the distribution of Unclaimed Property within the Office of the State Treasurer. During his first two months in office, more than $3 million was returned to the people of Mississippi. McRae also oversees College Savings Mississippi, helping lift the financial burden of a college education for thousands of young people.

Prior to serving as State Treasurer, McRae was involved in the family business, serving as Managing Partner of McRae Investments. He is active in civic and community organizations, including Habitat for Humanity, Friends of Children's Hospital, and the American Heart Association.

McRae earned his law degree from Mississippi College, during which time he served as Chief Justice of the Honor Court and worked for Justice Jess Dickinson at the Mississippi Supreme Court. He lives in Ridgeland with his wife, Katherine, and their three children.

Duties: The Office of the State Treasurer has many different divisions, including Cash Management, Investments, Bonds, Collateral, Unclaimed Property, and College Savings Mississippi. Among the Treasurer's duties and responsibilities are maintaining all the state's financial records including receipts, deposits and disbursements of funds that flow through the state's coffers. Those funds come from multiple sources including the federal government, proceeds from the issuance of bonds, interest payments and income and sales tax.

The Treasurer also is responsible for investing state funds, serves as custodian of securities held by other agencies, pays state warrants, manages the Unclaimed Property Program, and administers Mississippi's two 529 College Savings Programs: MPACT, Mississippi's Prepaid Affordable College Tuition Program and MACS, Mississippi's Affordable College Savings Program.

The Treasurer serves as a member of more than a dozen Boards, including Mississippi Windstorm Underwriting Association Board, Mississippi Guaranty Pool Board, State Bond Commission, Public Employees Retirement Board, Mississippi Business Finance Corporation, Development Bank Board, License Tag Commission, Tort Claims Board, Economic Development Strategic Planning Task Force, State Prison Emergency and Management Board, Private Nonprofit Institutions of Higher Learning (MEFA), the Historic Properties Trust Fund Advisory Committee, and Chairman of the College Savings Plan of Mississippi Board.

The Treasurer is elected to a four-year term and may be re-elected. Miss. Constitution 1890. Article 5.SS 125, 134 and 136. Miss. Code Ann. § 7-9-1 et seq. (1972)

State Auditor SHAD WHITE

Shad White, Certified Fraud Examiner (CFE), grew up in Sandersville, Mississippi – population 731 – in a blue-collar family. His father and grandfather were oilfield pumpers, and his mother and grandmother were teachers. On the weekends, his father was music minister at their small country church, and his mother played the organ. Today his father serves as mayor of their small town.

After attending public school, Auditor White earned his undergraduate degree in economics from the University of Mississippi. He studied as a Rhodes Scholar at the University of Oxford, earning a master's in economic history. Auditor White holds a law degree from Harvard Law School, where he learned the meaning of fighting for values that might be unpopular. While there, Auditor White served as President of the Federalist Society, a conservative legal association, and brought speakers to campus to defend the legality of public prayer, the morality of work and free enterprise, and the importance of traditional moral values.

In 2011, Auditor White served as Director of Policy to then-Lt. Gov. Phil Bryant. He later practiced law in the private sector, served as a special prosecutor in Rankin County, and served as Director of the Mississippi Justice Institute. At the Mississippi Justice Institute, Auditor White filed and led cases against public officials when they violated Mississippi's open government and ethics laws. He has also taught as an adjunct professor at the University of Mississippi, earned a certificate in forensic accounting, and previously worked as a fellow at a national think tank on state policy.

Auditor White was appointed to serve as the 42nd State Auditor of Mississippi on July 6, 2018.

Shortly after taking office, White launched an effort to cut fat from the Auditor's office budget. The office has moved and reduced the cost of a satellite office and trimmed fat wherever possible, down to eliminating unnecessary Wi-Fi hotspots. Auditor White also focused on transparency. The Auditor's office began posting all its contracts and requests for proposals online at www.osa.ms.gov/transparency. He also commissioned an audit of his own office and published the findings of the audit and remediation plan on the agency website. Finally, Auditor White started a new initiative that identified where state government had cyber security weaknesses and vulnerabilities to hackers.

Auditor White also chose new leadership to run the office's critical Investigations Division in his first few months in office. The re-energized Investigations Division demanded over $4 million in taxpayer dollars back from individuals who embezzled or misappropriated money during White's first 18 months in office. Major cases included a demand for over $980,000 for embezzlement by two community college employees, large demands to two of the longest serving chancery clerks in Mississippi, and many others.

Auditor White ran unopposed and was elected to a full four-year term as State Auditor in November 2019 after establishing a tough, no-nonsense reputation. Shortly after beginning the new term, White announced the arrest of six individuals connected to the Mississippi Department of Human Services – including the former executive director – in the largest embezzlement scheme in state history, drawing national news coverage in The New York Times, Newsweek, and others.

Beyond the notable criminal cases, Auditor White has also pointed out significant waste of taxpayer dollars since he took office. Reports from the Auditor's office have shown that Mississippi's outside-the-classroom spending in K-12 education has increased while student enrollment and inflation-adjusted spending on teacher pay has decreased. A November 2019 education report from Auditor White's office showed Mississippi spent a higher percentage of K-12 public education money on administrative expenses than any other southern state except Washington, DC. Auditor White has also recommended shuttering government boards that have outlived their purpose and consolidating the back-office functions of small government agencies.

Auditor White is dedicated to being a tough, energetic watchdog of your hard-earned money. Since he was appointed, his office has pursued aggressive consequences for embezzlers regardless of whether they were Republicans or Democrats.

Today Auditor White, his wife Rina, and their daughter Zara live in Rankin County and are faithful members at St. Richard Church.

Duties: The State Auditor is responsible for auditing state agencies, county governments, school districts, community and junior colleges, and universities; conducting investigations into abuse of public funds and violations of law; providing best practices for all public offices of regional and local subdivisions of the state, systems of accounting, budgeting and reporting financial facts relating to said offices in conformity with legal requirements and with generally accepted accounting principles; conducting inventory audits of all state property; and auditing the quality of data and data controls in public schools. The State Auditor is elected to a four-year term and may be re-elected. Miss. Const. 1890, Article 5, § § 113, 115, 134, and 136. Miss. Code Ann. § 7-7-1, et seq. (1972).

Mississippi Legislative Branch

The Mississippi Legislature is made up of a Senate and a House of Representatives. At present, there are 52 senators and 122 representatives.

Powers: The state Constitution places law-making authority in the Legislature which also has the power of the purse—a constitutional provision that no money can be spent from the state’s treasury unless the Legislature passes a law to do so. The Senate has advice and consent over appointments made by the governor. The power of impeachment is vested solely in the House; the power to try impeachment lies in the Senate. The House has the duty to elect the governor if no candidate receives a majority of both the popular vote and the electoral vote in the general election.

Qualifications: A senator must be at least 25 years of age at the time he or she takes office, a resident for two years of the district to be represented, and a qualified elector of the state for four years.

A representative must be at least 21 years of age at the time he or she takes office, a resident citizen of the state for four years, a resident of the district to be represented for two years immediately preceding the election, and a qualified elector of the state. Senators and representatives are elected for four-year terms.

Officers: The president and presiding officer of the Senate is the Lieutenant Governor; the second in command is the President Pro Tempore. The presiding officer of the House of Representatives is the Speaker of the House, a state representative who is elected to the position by House members. The Speaker Pro Tempore is the second-ranking representative.

Terms and Sessions: Legislators are administered the oath of office by the Secretary of State on the first day of the regular session of the year following election. The Constitution requires the Legislature to convene yearly on the Tuesday after the first Monday in January.

Volume of Legislation: During each Regular Session, the Legislature typically sends more than 600 bills to the Governor to be signed into law. Frequently, more than one-fourth of those bills involve the finances of state government (appropriations). Typically, twenty to twenty-five percent of all bills introduced in a session become law. The Secretary of State’s Office assigns chapter numbers to the bills, distributes copies according to law, and certifies the bills for legal proceedings as requested.

Rules: The Constitution stipulates that bills may originate in either chamber of the Legislature. It empowers each chamber to determine its own rules of procedure, although each is prohibited from adjourning for more than three days without the consent of the other chamber. Adjourning to places other than the House and Senate chambers is prohibited as well.

Each body adopts its own rules, although joint rules are adopted to govern legislative procedures that affect the orderly flow of bills between the houses.

Length of Session: The Constitution provides for legislative sessions to last no more than 90 days except for the first session of a new term, which may not exceed more than 125 days. Sessions may be extended when necessary by two-thirds vote in both houses. The governor may call a special session whenever he deems it necessary. Numerous legislative committees also work between sessions on a wide variety of proposals. In addition, individual legislators often use the interim months to research and prepare bills for the next session. Members also work to help the citizens they represent.

Accountability: Legislative accountability to the people of Mississippi is provided by publication of all proceedings in Senate and House journals which are published by the Secretary of State. Moreover, the Constitution requires that the doors of each chamber shall be open “except in cases which may require secrecy.”

How A Bill Becomes A Law

Capitol Quick List

The New Capitol is the centerpiece of State government. It was begun in 1901 and completed in 1903 at a cost of $1,093,642 in back taxes owed the State of Mississippi by the Illinois Central Railroad. Designed in the Beaux Arts style by St. Louis architect Theodore Link, the building sits on the grounds of the old state penitentiary between Mississippi and High Streets in downtown Jackson. Its eight-foot tall golden eagle is visible from Interstate 55.

The Senate is housed in the Capitol's east wing; the House of Representatives in the west. Flags at full staff indicate when the houses are convened in their respective chambers. The Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and Secretary of State each have offices in the Capitol.

The first floor features the Hall of Governors, portraits of Mississippi governors beginning with Winthrop Sargent, first Territorial Governor (1798-1801). The second floor houses the Old Supreme Court chambers on the Senate side and the Old State Library on the House side. Both are now used as committee rooms. The main floor of the Rotunda is also located here. The Senate and House of Representatives chambers are located on the third floor and can be viewed from the galleries located on the fourth floor.

Mississippi Judicial Branch

In Mississippi, the judicial branch of government has three components: the Supreme Court, the Court of Appeals, and the Trial Courts.

SUPREME COURT

Qualifications: A qualified elector for and from the Supreme Court District in which election is sought (residency), a practicing attorney, at least 30 years of age, and a citizen of the state for five (5) years preceding the day of election.

Fee: $200 made payable to the State Board of Election Commissioners, delivered to the Secretary of State's Office.

Duties: The Supreme Court is the State's court of last resort. It is composed of nine elected justices, three from each of the State's three Supreme Court Districts. Their eight-year terms are staggered to provide continuity. The Supreme Court hears appeals from Mississippi's two courts of general jurisdiction: circuit and chancery. In limited circumstances, it may also hear direct appeals from county courts. In addition to appellate jurisdiction, the Supreme Court has the power to issue extraordinary writs. The nine justices may sit in en banc (all members participating) or in three-judge panels.

Reserved to the Supreme Court are death penalty cases; appeals involving utility rates, annexations, bond issues, election contests, statutes held unconstitutional by a lower court, cases involving attorney discipline; judicial performance; certified questions from a federal court, cases involving a major question of first impression; fundamental and urgent issues of broad public importance requiring prompt determination; substantial constitutional questions concerning the validity of a statute, ordinance, court rule; or administrative rule or regulation; and issues where there is an inconsistency or conflict in court decisions.

COURT OF APPEALS

Qualifications: A practicing attorney, at least 30 years of age, and a citizen of the state for five (5) years preceding the day of election.

Fee: $200 made payable to the State Board of Election Commissioners, delivered to the Secretary of State's Office.

Duties: The Court of Appeals was created in 1994 and began sitting the following year. It is the state's only intermediate court and hears only appeals assigned by the Supreme Court.

The Court of Appeals is composed of ten elected judges, two from each Congressional district. Their terms are for eight years and are staggered to provide continuity. The chief justice of the Supreme Court appoints the chief judge of the Court of Appeals.

TRIAL COURTS

Mississippi's trial court system consists of two general jurisdiction courts (circuit and chancery) and three limited jurisdiction courts (county, justice, and municipal).

Circuit Courts

Qualifications: A qualified elector for and from the circuit court district (residency), a practicing attorney for five (5) years, at least 26 years of age, and a citizen of the state for five (5) years.

Fee: $100 made payable to the State Board of Election Commissioners, delivered to the Secretary of State's Office.

Duties: Twenty-two circuit courts have original jurisdiction over all civil and criminal matters not vested exclusively in another court. Circuit judges are elected in non-partisan races to four-year terms. Most circuit court cases are heard by juries, although some circumstances may permit bench trials. Circuit judges have the power to issue extraordinary writs.

Chancery Courts

Qualifications: A qualified elector for and from the chancery court district (residency), a practicing attorney for five (5) years, at least 26 years of age, and a citizen of the state for five (5) years.

Fee: $100 made payable to the State Board of Election Commissioners, delivered to the Secretary of State's Office.

Duties: Twenty chancery courts have jurisdiction over matters involving equity, divorce, alimony, probate, guardianship, and sanity. In those counties with no county court, chancery courts have exclusive jurisdiction over juvenile matters. Their jurisdiction over equity matters involving less than $75,000 is concurrent with county courts. Chancery court judges, often called chancellors, are elected in non-partisan races to four-year terms. Most chancery court cases are non-jury proceedings, although juries may be impaneled in certain circumstances.

County Courts

Qualifications: A qualified elector for and from the county court district (residency), at least 26 years old, a practicing attorney for five (5) years, and a citizen of the state for five (5) years preceding the election.

Fee: $15 made payable to county Circuit Clerk.

Duties: Twenty-two counties have established county courts. County court judges are elected in non-partisan races to four-year terms. They have exclusive jurisdiction over matters involving eminent domain, partition of personal property unlawful entry and detainer, and juvenile matters.

County courts have concurrent jurisdiction with justice courts in all matters, civil and criminal; and concurrent jurisdiction with circuit and chancery courts in all matters of law and equity up to $200,000. They may also adjudicate certain non-capital felony cases transferred by the circuit courts.

Justice Courts

Qualifications: A qualified elector, a resident of the county for two (2) years preceding the day of election, a high school graduate, and complete a course of training required by law within six (6) months of the beginning of the term of office.

Party Candidates: $100 made payable to the appropriate county executive committee via Circuit Clerk.

Independent candidates: $100 paid to the county via the Circuit Clerk and petition filed with the Circuit Clerk containing signatures of not less than 15 qualified electors of the district.

Duties: Justice courts have jurisdiction in all civil cases involving amounts of $3,500 or less. They conduct preliminary hearings in felony cases and have concurrent jurisdiction with circuit courts over criminal matters where punishment cannot exceed a fine and sentence of one year in county jail. Justice courts also handle preliminary matters committed inside the county, but outside of city limits. Each county is divided into justice court districts, the number determined by population. Judges are elected in partisan elections to four-year terms.

District Attorneys

Qualifications: A qualified elector of the district and a practicing attorney admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of Mississippi for two years.

Political Party Candidates: $250 paid to the appropriate state party executive committee.

Independent Candidates: $250 paid to the Secretary of State's Office, and petition filed with the Secretary of State containing signatures of not less than 100 qualified electors of district.

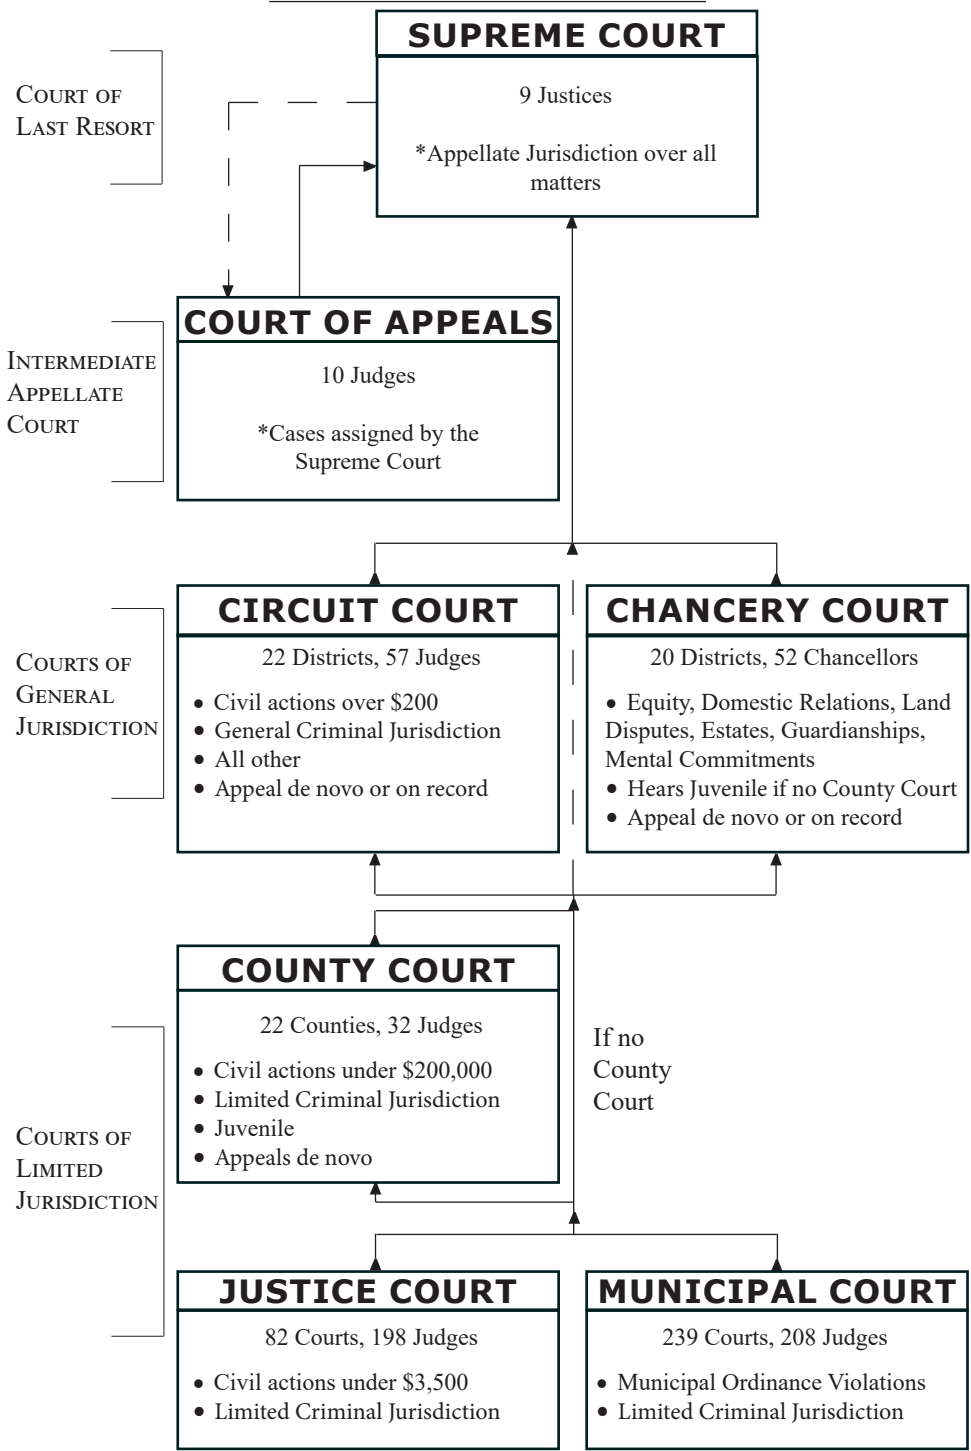

Duties: There are 22 district attorneys in Mississippi, each assigned to a Circuit Court district. District attorneys are prosecutors who represent the people of Mississippi in all criminal matters originating in a trial court except in those counties with county prosecuting attorneys.

Youth Courts

The Youth courts deal with matters involving abuse and neglect of juveniles, as well as offenses committed by juveniles. Young people who have not reached the age of 18 may be subject to the Youth Court, although there are some exceptions. Some offenses which would be treated as crimes if committed by adults are known as delinquent acts when they involve juveniles.

In the 22 counties which have a County Court, those judges also serve as Youth Court judges. In counties which do not have a County Court, the Chancery Judge may hear Youth Court matters, or the Chancery Judge may appoint a lawyer to act in a judicial capacity as Youth Court Referee. The city of Pearl also has its own municipal Youth Court.

COUNTY ELECTED OFFICIALS

Mississippi has 82 counties, 72 of which have one county seat. The other 10 have two county seats due to the division of court districts.

Mississippi became a territory of the United States in 1798. On December 10, 1817, Mississippi became the twentieth state admitted to the Union. Counties organized prior to statehood and their organization dates are: Adams (1798), Amite (1809), Claiborne (1802), Franklin (1809), Greene (1811), Hancock (1817), Jackson (1812), Jefferson (1799 as Pickering; renamed "Jefferson" in 1802), Lawrence (1814), Marion (1811), Pike (1815), Warren (1809), Washington (1800), Wayne (1809), and Wilkinson (1802). The last county formed was Humphreys County in 1918.

County boundaries were changed over time to accommodate the formation of new counties.
