The Mississippi Supreme Court is the court of last resort among state courts. Decisions of the Chancery, Circuit and County Courts and of the Court of Appeals may be appealed to the Supreme Court. Appeals which go directly to the Supreme Court include annexations, bond issues, constitutionality challenges, death penalty cases, disciplinary matters involving attorneys and judges, election contests, certified questions from federal court, utility rates, cases of first impression, and issues of broad public interest.

Nine Supreme Court justices are elected from three districts. Non-partisan elections are staggered so that not all positions are up for election at once. Supreme Court justices serve eight-year terms.

Each Supreme Court justice participates in deciding appeals from the entire state. Decisions are by a majority vote of the court.

The nine justices may sit in en banc (all members participating) or in three-judge panels.

SUPREME COURT DISTRICTS:

QUALIFICATIONS: A practicing attorney, at least 30 years of age, and a citizen of the state for at least three years preceding the day of election.

Fee: $200 made payable to the State Board of Election Commissioners, delivered to the Secretary of State's Office.

TERMS OF COURT: A term of the Supreme Court shall be held twice each year in the city of Jackson, to be styled the Supreme Court; and the terms shall commence the second Monday of September and the first Monday of March, and the Court shall be kept open for the discharge of business for at least nine months of every year if the business therein should require.

COURT OF APPEALS
The Court of Appeals hears cases assigned by the Supreme Court. The Court of Appeals is an error correction court. It hears and decides appeals on issues in which the law is already settled, but the facts are in dispute. The Supreme Court may review Court of Appeals decisions. If the Supreme Court declines review, the decision of the Court of Appeals stands.

The Mississippi Legislature created the Court of Appeals in 1994 to speed appeals and relieve a backlog of cases before the Supreme Court. The Court of Appeals began hearing cases in 1995.

Ten Court of Appeals judges are elected from five districts. Non-partisan elections are staggered so that not all positions are up for election at one time. Court of Appeals judges serve eight-year terms. Court of Appeals judges hear cases from all over the state.

QUALIFICATIONS: A practicing attorney, at least 30 years of age, and a citizen of the state for five (5) years preceding the day of election.

Fee: $200 made payable to the State Board of Election Commissioners, delivered to the Secretary of State's Office.

TERMS OF COURT: The Court of Appeals meets continuously throughout the year and hears arguments every month except July. By law, the Court is located in the city of Jackson as close as convenient to the State Law Library and the Supreme Court.
CIRCUIT COURTS
Circuit Courts hear felony criminal prosecutions and civil lawsuits. Mississippi’s 22 Circuit Courts have original jurisdiction over all civil and criminal matters not vested exclusively in another court. Circuit Courts also hear appeals from County, Justice, and Municipal courts and from administrative boards and commissions such as the Mississippi Department of Employment Security.

There are 22 Circuit Court districts and 57 Circuit Court judges. Circuit Court judges are selected in non-partisan elections to serve four-year terms. Most Circuit Court trials are heard with a 12-member jury and usually one or two alternate jurors. A judge may preside without a jury if the dispute is a question of law rather than fact. Circuit judges have the power to issue extraordinary writs.

QUALIFICATIONS: A practicing attorney for five (5) years, at least 26 years of age, and a citizen of the state for five (5) years. Fee: $100 made payable to the State Board of Election Commissioners, delivered to the Secretary of State’s Office.

TERMS OF COURT: Each year, the circuit court judges issue orders establishing the commencement and continuation of terms of court no later than October 1. If no order is issued, then the court term remains unchanged from the previous year. This information is posted at each courthouse and is published annually by the Secretary of State in the Judiciary Directory and Court Calendar.

CHANCERY COURTS
Chancery Courts have jurisdiction over disputes in matters involving equity; domestic matters including adoptions, custody disputes and divorces; guardianships; sanity hearings; wills; and challenges to constitutionality of state laws. Land records are filed in Chancery Court. The Chancery Courts’ jurisdiction over equity matters involving less than $200,000 is concurrent with County Courts.

Chancery Courts have jurisdiction over juvenile matters in counties which have no County Court. The chancellor may appoint a lawyer in private practice to sit as a youth court referee to hear juvenile matters such as delinquency, abuse, and neglect.

Trials are typically heard by a chancellor without a jury, although state law allows parties to request a jury in Chancery Court.

There are 20 Chancery Court districts and 52 Chancery Court judges. Chancery Court judges are selected in non-partisan elections to serve four-year terms.

QUALIFICATIONS: A practicing attorney for five (5) years, at least 26 years of age, and a citizen of the state for five (5) years. Fee: $100 made payable to the State Board of Election Commissioners, delivered to the Secretary of State’s Office.

TERMS OF COURT: Each year, chancellors issue orders establishing the commencement and continuation of terms of court no later than October 1. If no order is issued, then the court term remains unchanged from the previous year. This information is posted at each courthouse and is published by the Secretary of State in the Judiciary Directory and Court Calendar.

COUNTY COURTS
County Courts have exclusive jurisdiction over eminent domain proceedings and juvenile matters. In counties which have a County Court, a County Court judge also serves as the Youth Court judge. County Courts share jurisdiction with Circuit and Chancery Courts in some civil matters. The jurisdictional limit of County Courts is up to $200,000. County Courts may handle non-capital felony cases transferred from Circuit Court. County Court judges may issue search warrants, set bond, and preside over preliminary hearings. County Courts have concurrent jurisdiction with Justice Courts in all matters, civil and criminal.

Mississippi has 22 County Courts and 30 County Court judges. Counties which have a County Court include Adams, Bolivar, Coahoma, DeSoto, Forrest, Hancock, Harrison, Hinds, Jackson, Jones, Lamar, Lauderdale, Lee, Leflore, Lowndes, Madison, Pearl River, Pike, Rankin, Warren, Washington, and Yazoo.

County Court judges serve four-year terms. Elections are non-partisan.

QUALIFICATIONS: A qualified elector for and from the county court district (residency), at least 26 years old, a practicing attorney for five (5) years, and a citizen of the state for five (5) years preceding the election. Fee: $15 made payable to county Circuit Clerk.
JUDICIAL

TERMS OF COURT: County Court usually begins the second Monday of each month, unless a special order is entered by the court to extend the term, or, in the case of some counties with two courthouses, the law provides special terms of court for each courthouse.

JUSTICE COURTS

Justice Courts have jurisdiction over small claims civil cases involving amounts of $3,500 or less, misdemeanor criminal cases, and any traffic offense that occurs outside a municipality. Justice Court judges may conduct bond hearings and preliminary hearings in felony criminal cases and may issue search warrants.

There are 82 Justice Courts with 197 judges. Each county is divided into justice court districts, the number determined by population. Justice Court judges are the only Mississippi judges elected in partisan races. They serve four-year terms.

Fee for independent candidates: $100 paid to the county via the Circuit Clerk and petition filed with the Circuit Clerk containing signatures of not less than 15 qualified electors of the district.

TERMS OF COURT: Justice Court judges hold regular terms of their courts, at such times as they may appoint, but no more than two and not less than one term in every month.

MUNICIPAL COURTS

Municipal courts have jurisdiction over misdemeanor crimes, municipal ordinances and city traffic violations. Municipal judges may conduct initial appearances in which defendants are advised of the charges being filed, as well as bond hearings and preliminary hearings.

There are 237 Municipal Courts. Most municipalities have one judge, although a few jurisdictions have several.

CIRCUIT COURT JUDGES

Circuit Courts hear felony criminal prosecutions and civil lawsuits. Circuit Courts hear appeals from County, Justice, and Municipal courts and from administrative boards and commissions such as the Workers’ Compensation Commission and the Mississippi Department of Employment Security.

There are 22 Circuit Court districts and 57 Circuit Court judges. The number of Circuit judges per district ranges from one to four. Circuit Court judges are selected in non-partisan elections to serve four-year terms.

Trials are heard with a 12-member jury and usually one or two alternate jurors. A judge may preside without a jury if the dispute is a question of law rather than fact.

CHANCERY COURT JUDGES

Chancery Courts have jurisdiction over disputes in matters involving equity; domestic matters including adoptions, custody disputes, and divorces; guardianships; sanity hearings; wills; and challenges to constitutionality of state laws. Land records are filed in Chancery Court.

Chancery Courts have jurisdiction over juvenile matters in counties which have no County Court. The chancellor may appoint a lawyer in private practice to sit as a youth court referee to hear juvenile matters such as delinquency, abuse and neglect.

Trials are typically heard by a chancellor without a jury, although state law allows parties to request a jury in Chancery Court.

There are 20 Chancery Court districts and 52 Chancery Court judges. The number of chancery judges per district ranges from one to four. Chancery Court judges are selected in non-partisan elections to serve four-year terms.

COUNTY COURT JUDGES

County Courts have exclusive jurisdiction over eminent domain proceedings and juvenile matters, among other things. In counties which have a County Court, a County Court judge also serves as the Youth Court judge. County Courts share jurisdiction with Circuit and Chancery Courts in some civil matters. The jurisdictional limit of County Courts is up to $200,000. County Courts may handle non-capital felony cases transferred from Circuit Court. County Court judges may issue search warrants, set bond and preside over preliminary hearings. County Courts have concurrent jurisdiction with Justice Courts in all matters, civil and criminal.

Mississippi has 22 County Courts and 30 County Court judges. Counties which have a County Court include Adams, Bolivar, Coahoma, DeSoto, Forrest, Hancock, Harrison, Hinds, Jackson, Jones, Lamar, Lauderdale, Lee, Leflore, Lowndes, Madison, Pearl River, Pike, Rankin, Warren, Washington, and Yazoo. County Court judges serve four-year terms. Elections are non-partisan.

Justice Courts have jurisdiction over small claims civil cases involving amounts of $3,500 or less, misdemeanor criminal cases and any traffic offense that occurs outside a municipality. Justice Court judges may conduct bond hearings and preliminary hearings in felony criminal cases and may issue search warrants.

There are 82 Justice Courts with 197 judges. Justice Court judges are the only Mississippi judges elected in partisan races. They serve four-year terms.

INTERVENTION COURTS

Drug intervention courts address crimes committed by persons with drug and alcohol addiction along with other co-occurring disorders. Drug intervention courts seek to rehabilitate offenders through treatment and intense supervision that includes random substance testing. Drug intervention courts operate in every Circuit Court district as well as in some Youth Courts and a few Chancery Courts, Justice Courts and Municipal Courts. Mississippi’s first felony drug intervention court began in 1999.

In authorizing creation of veteran’s treatment courts, the Legislature recognized that in their service to our country, many military veterans may have suffered post-traumatic stress disorder, traumatic brain injury and depression, and may also suffer drug and alcohol dependency or addiction and co-occurring mental illness and substance abuse problems. As a result of this, some veterans come into contact with the criminal justice system and are charged with felony offenses. Circuit Courts are authorized to create veteran’s treatment courts to provide special treatment and supervision while also providing accountability for wrongdoing.

The Legislature authorized creation of mental health courts to establish court processes and procedures that are more responsive to the needs of defendants with mental illnesses, while maintaining public safety and the integrity of the court process. The goal of the mental health courts is to support effective and proven practices that reduce recidivism and provide treatment for participants.

Intervention courts seek to improve education, employment, housing, and financial stability; promote family reunification; reduce foster care placements when applicable; and increase the rate of mothers with substance use disorders delivering fully drug-free babies. Intervention courts recognize addiction as a disease and offer compassionate treatment. These special courts lead people living with substance abuse and mental health disorders out of the justice system and into lives of recovery and stability.
YOUTH COURTS

The Youth Courts deal with matters involving abuse and neglect of juveniles, as well as offenses committed by juveniles. Young people who have not reached the age of 18 may be subject to the Youth Court, although there are some exceptions. Some offenses which would be treated as crimes if committed by adults are known as delinquent acts when they involve juveniles.

In the 22 counties which have a County Court, those judges also serve as Youth Court judges. In counties which do not have a County Court, the Chancery Judge may hear Youth Court matters, or the Chancery Judge may appoint a lawyer to act in a judicial capacity as Youth Court Referee. The city of Pearl also has its own municipal Youth Court.

The Judicial College, a division of the University of Mississippi School of Law, is the state's provider of continuing legal judicial education and training for some 2,800 court-related personnel. It is funded annually by more than $1 million through the State Court Education Fund. Founded in the 1970s, it was the first full-time state judicial education program in the U.S.

The Judicial Advisory Study Committee was established to make recommendations to the Administrative Office of Courts in the administration of the courts; to conduct research relating to the improvement of the State's judicial system; and to make policy recommendations to promote the administration of justice and courts operation.
